Instructions/norms for the construction of kitchen- cum- stores under Mid Day meal Scheme in Primary/Upper primary schools in the State.

Sir,

As you are already aware that the work of kitchen –cum –stores under Mid Day Meal scheme in Primary and Upper primary Schools as well as (Upper Primary units in High & Senior Secondary Schools) is being executed through your technical staff in the State In this context, it may be ensured that while sanctioning new preparation centre (Kitchen cum stores) under Mid Day Meal Scheme for Primary and Upper Primary schools, following norms & guidelines duly approved by the Government vide letter No.EDN-H (EE)(4)4-16/2007 Dated 17-06-2008 & 19-07-2008 (copies attached) (Also available on Department website www.himachal.nic.in) and the same are re-iterated as under may be kept in view on priority :-

- The Hot cooked Mid Day Meal will be prepared combined in the same/ existing preparation centre(kitchen –cum-store) where the Upper primary and primary classes exist within 0-299 meters.
- And where the distance between the Upper Primary and Primary is more than 300 metres, the SMC will make arrangements for separate preparation centre (kitchen –cum-store) for preparing meals for the Upper primary classes.
- At places where the recess timings are different , where enrolment is higher & practically unmanageable, where some road with heavy traffic passes in between the two schools i.e. primary and Upper primary sections of the same school, or where some natural barrier makes the movement of children difficult and for other unforeseen reasons making the setting up of common kitchen-cum-store for preparation and distribution of MDM difficult and practically non- feasible, the construction of separate preparation centre(Kitchen-cum-stores) for cooking and preparation of MDM in such schools may be allowed . But as far as possible for the combined enrolment of 240 students of class I to VIII, the construction of common (Kitchen –cum-stores) preparation centre should be allowed.

This is for your kind information and further necessary action in the matter please.
